

quantum physics and reality: What really is?

A lecture on the philosophical implications of quantum physics by

Prof Bernard d'Espagnat

physicist, student of Louis de Broglie, research assistant with Niels Bohr and Enrico Fermi, collaborator with John Bell at CERN, writer on the philosophy of foundational physics and winner of 2009 Templeton Prize.

Wed May 6th 5:30pm

Clore Lecture Theatre, Huxley Building, Imperial College, SW7 2AZ
(entrance from Queensgate or main walkway)

Discussion chaired by Chris Isham
Senior Dean and Prof of Theoretical Physics

The event is free but please register in advance at chaplaincy@imperial.ac.uk

CHAPLAINCY
www.imperial.ac.uk/chaplaincy